Post-Operative Care Following Extractions

The Day of Surgery:

- Bleeding: If given gauze, bite down to apply firm pressure to the area.
- Change every 30 minutes until active bleeding has subsided (usually 2-3 hours).
- You may remove gauze to begin drinking, but place fresh gauze on extraction site(s) if bleeding continues.
- It is normal to experience light bleeding for up to 24 hours. If there is severe bleeding follow instructions below under "Excessive Bleeding"

Do not rinse your mouth, spit or drink through a straw for 1-2 days.

Swelling: Ice packs may be used to reduce swelling. Rotate ice pack on & off, or side to side, every 20 minutes for 24 hours.

Smoking/Alcohol: Avoid alcohol or smoking today and for a week following surgery.

Numbness: You will probably remain numb for several hours after surgery, so it is recommended that you begin to drink fluids, and take pain medications (over-the-counter or prescribed) before the anesthetic wears off (or when you begin to feel a tingling sensation).

The First Day after Surgery:

Sutures/Stitches: You may have sutures placed in your mouth to control the bleeding & speed healing. They will dissolve on their own over 7-10 days. It is normal if your suture/stitches come loose or break apart.

Medications: you may have been given the following medications:

*Pain medication: take 800mg of Motrin & 4 hours later 1000mg of Tylenol. You may alternate between Motrin & Tylenol every 4 hours for the next 2-3 days. Take only prescribed pain medication if needed. Eating something prior to taking pain medicine can reduce nausea.

*Antibiotics: should be taken as directed until gone. Be aware that some antibiotics can reduce the contraceptive effect of birth control pills. Please contact your gynecologist or pharmacist if you have concerns.

Excessive bleeding: (Follow these instructions only if experiencing severe bleeding):

- Take a large amount of gauze or 2 tea bags moistened with water & place over bleeding area & close mouth, applying constant pressure and call office immediately.
